

Help Wanted.

Good help is hard to get. Lots of people want work, but when they get it, they do not hold their places by reason of merit. People who are industrious, enterprising, reliable, always make good employees. Judging from the people who read the Journal, it ought not to be a hard matter to get the kind of help you want by an advertisement inserted in the Journal columns at 10 cents a line; eight words to the line. If you want German help, your advertisement will be repeated in Das Morgen Journal without cost.

Chi-Pst Men Will Dine.
The Chi-Pst Alumni Society of this city will hold its fourth annual meeting and banquet at the Holland House, March 23. The business meeting will take place at 7 o'clock and the banquet at 8. Among those expected to be present are ex-Chief Justice Robert Earle, of the Court of Appeals, and ex-United States Senator Palmer, of Michigan.

The camp of the rebel Salvationists' chieftain, Ballington Booth, in the Bible House, is a scene of bustling and increasing activity. The hardest worked evangelist in New York is a man of leisure compared with Ballington Booth, who, though he looks forward to rest in heaven, is not at all the slightest consideration of his. Rest does not enter into his thoughts at all.

Mrs. Booth, who is as much, if not more, devoted to the new salvation plan, is quite as

The indomitable pull of leaders do not leave their headquarters in the dark, and they go to their Montclair home, tired and worn, but full as ever of pluck and courage in their undertaking. They realize, they say, that their work has but begun, and that before America shall have a distinctive great army fighting for the Lord there are days and years of necessary labor.

"We are your minds," says Mrs. Booth, "on our motto, 'Jehovah Nisi,' which means 'Nothing without God,' and are doing our best."

Shanley Held by Coroner's Jury.
John Shanley, the saloon keeper at Avenue B and Fourteenth street, who shot and killed Edward Donagan last Friday, was held yesterday by the Coroner's jury to await the action of the Grand Jury. Coroner Fitzpatrick refused to admit Shanley to bail.

A lock-out of ten shirt cutters employed by Cohen & Roman, No. 128 Bleecker street, because they demanded an increase of wages, occurred yesterday. The increase demanded was $2 a week, their wages being $18. The men say they went on strike a week ago for the demand and that the employers refused to grant them the increase. They want back, and after a week had passed were locked out. The men belong to the Gotham Association of Kniffe Cutters. The shirtmakers were talking yesterday of going on strike also.
